LAST WILL

I, Lynn Arrowood, leave my "hair dyeing" kit to anyone else who uses the stuff.
I, Lorraine Baker, leave my place in the lunch line to Connie Lytle.
I, Mary Ellen Baxter, leave – and I am a better person for it!
I, Johnny Beaver, leave my ability to finish school to Carolyn Cook.
I, Buster Beck, leave my old car to get a new one.
I, Lee Benfield, leave my loud mouth to next year's head cheerleader.
I, Michael Bennett, leave all the girls in tears.
I, Butch Bowman, leave my good looks, black book, and track shoes to "Sharpears."
I, Steve Branch, leave to join Uncle Sam's Navy, and see the world.
I, Dian Brittain, leave my love for music to my very talented sister.
I, Richard Browning, leave the run of the school to my little sister "Fats."
I, Robert Bryant, leave my French ability to Mrs. Stroupe.
I, John Cantrell, leave as the coolest "soul brother" that ever was.
I, Tommy Carpenter, leave my coolness to Venice Thomas.
I, Steve Carswell, leave my position as quarterback to someone who can tell the linemen what to do in the huddle.
I, Carolyn Causby, leave my position as gossip editor to anyone who is stupid enough to take Shorthand II.
I, Eugene Conley, leave "Soul" to Raymond McDowell.
I, Jakie Conley, leave my laugh to Sherrill Lytle.
I, Lester Cooper, just leave, I hope.
I, Delores Costner, leave to go to work.
I, Wayne Crawford, leave all my absences to anyone who can get by with them.
I, Kathy Crooks, leave my quiet ways to Joyce Wise.
I, Randy Dale, leave my position as left end of the Green Waves to David Beaver.
I, R. W. Dale, leave my perfect attendance record to Frances Whitener.
I, Ethel Davis, leave my humorous sarcasm to anyone who can take it.
I, Stan Epley, leave my ability to keep everyone in stitches to Dab Marshall.
I, Ken Fann, leave G. A. to my brother, Ray, and I take Susan with me.
I, Janie Farris, leave my courteous ways to Patricia Barrier.
I, Marlow Farris, leave my quiet ways to my brother, Dwight.
I, Sherry Francum, leave Glen Alpine to my brother.
I, Martha Fullwood, leave my second period English class to Wanetta Surratt, if she ever makes it.
I, Dudley Greene, leave with deep appreciation to the faculty and students of Glen Alpine High School.
I, Anita Guigou, leave all of my romantic aspirations and ways to solve them to Marie Miller.
I, David Gwyn, leave for better, because it can't get any worse.
I, Glen Gwyn, leave, but take my science fiction books with me.
I, Gene Hallyburton, leave the hawk to the second most graceful person, "Sharpears."
I, Virginia Hastings, leave to become a professional farmer's wife.
I, Bob Hensley, leave Miss Thompson broken hearted, but with a quieter Typing II class.
I, Steve Henson, leave my ability to take lots of naps and get by with it to some sleepy underclassman.
I, Katrina Herman, leave my "bashed-up" Fairlane to Becky Bowers.
I, Wanda Holland, leave my red hair to Shirley Hipps.
I, Mike Hood, leave my ability to come to school to Charles Keever.
I, Andrea Hoyle, leave my '63 Mercury to my little sister "Dare."

AND TESTAMENT

I, Barbara Huffman, leave my name "Speedy" to some fast freshman.
I, Dale Keller, leave my zany ways to Andy Pitts.
I, Bud Lail, leave my cronic absences to Dean Edney.
I, James Lytle, leave Mrs. Taylor my brain – she'll never get another like it.
I, Susan Merrill, leave my height to Sandra Pitts.
I, Herbert McDowell, leave my athletic ability to Jerry Thomas.
I, Peggy McFalls, leave all I don't take with me to my little sister, Pam.
I, Steve McIntosh, leave my job at Gene's to Charles Cresawn.
I, Barbara McMahan, leave to become a professional artist.
I, Vickie Michaels, leave my position as a senior to my brother, Doug.
I, Sarah Morgan, leave my snare drum, car problems, and quarterbacks to Susan, Sandra, and Jayne.
I, Ruby Morrison, leave my love for Oak Hill to Terry Bowman.
I, Lonnie Moses, leave; just to be going somewhere.
I, Ted Mull, leave my guard-over-center position to Gene Lowdermilk.
I, Terecia Mulwee, leave my position as President of the Anchor Club to Judy Orders.
I, Mike Orders, leave my height to Donald Holland.
I, Sandra Orders, leave my school bus to Sylvia Greene.
I, Frances Patton, leave my freckles to Susan Johnson.
I, Kaye Patton, leave so that Mrs. Melton may have a quiet Shorthand II class.
I, Patricia Perkins, leave for Happy App.
I, Cheryl Pitts, leave my insulated underwear to any frozen band member who needs it.
I, Kathy Pollard, leave to enjoy family life.
I, Marva Poole, leave my shorthand ability to Libby Hardy.
I, Ronald Poteet, leave my airplane throwing to whoever wants it.
I, Margie Pritchard, leave to become a good wife to Ronnie.
I, Judy Ross, leave my '58 Chevrolet to my brother, Dennis.
I, Rita Scott, leave Glen Alpine as the last of the Scott sisters.
I, Warren Scott, leave the job of Student Body President to Wayne Clontz.
I, Michael Shell, leave the halls of G. A. to my brother, Richard.
I, Bill South, leave to let Mr. Gaylord yell at "Sharp Ears."
I, Betty Stacy, leave my empty "Curl–Free" boxes to Nancy Cook.
I, Connie Stamey, leave Mr. Curry without a pet.
I, Mona Staver, leave my sneeze to anyone capable of copying it.
I, Brenda Stillwell, leave to make Larry a good wife.
I, Janet Teague, leave the basketball team to Betsy Gibbs and Susan Leonard, and the annual to Frances Whitener.
I, Angie Vance, leave to become Mrs. Phillip Payne.
I, Henry Wallace, leave Larry Carpenter my 5th period English class.
I, Steve White, leave nothing but my locker.
I, Johnese Williams, leave my morning gossip sessions to Lela Hyatt.
I, Phillip Wilson, leave my ability to think to anyone who can use it.
I, Rick Wise, leave what's left of Bus no. 5 with head Mechanic, Zennie Cox.
I, Sammy Wiseman, leave my love for sports to Ricky Franklin.

CLASS

It felt good to be home again. Even though it was drizzling rain, the Kennedy airport was a welcome sight. I had been in the Peace Corps for the past three years; I was completely out of touch with the happenings of the United States.

There was an hour's delay before my flight bound for North Carolina. I settled down in a leather chair in the midst of the bustling lounge. Thumbing through the magazine rack, I found the current issue of Time: September 2, 1979. To my surprise, I recognized the face on the cover. The profile was that of Steve McIntosh. The title read: "Successful Scientist Receives Nobel Prize." I hurriedly turned to the cover story page. Steve, along with his laboratory assistant Janie Farris, had worked many hours on this project. The award was presented by Michael Hood, a generous philanthropist, in Stockholm, Sweden.

Examining the magazine closer, I found it packed with G. A. personalities. The credit page revealed that the Editor-in-Chief was Janet Teague. As editor of our high school annual, she had many hours of experience behind her. Her staff included Linda McElrath, Managing Editor; Betty Stacy, Publisher; and Rita Scott, Social Editor. Correspondents were Connie Stamey and Ruby Morrison, who had a nose for news even in high school.

The main news story of the week was the opening of the new Municipal Art Center in Washington designed by the genius engineer, Ted Mull. The plush interior was created by Anita Guigou, a nationally known interior decorator. With many sleek modern lines, this versatile building included many features. The New York Philharmonic Orchestra, directed by Dudley Greene, was to perform in concert. Two members of this distinguished group were Dian Brittain and Michael Shell. Also on the afternoon program was a recitation by Randy Dale, poet laureate, and a Shakespearean reading by James Lytle. Both had their start in Mrs. Lonon's drama class. An original modern ballet, choreographed by Stanley (shake-a-leg) Epley, was to be performed that night.

Government affairs seemed to be in fine hands. Head of the Dept. of Agriculture was Mike Orders. Pat Perkins was the Ambassador to France, and her diplomatic endeavors had stopped many crises. Leading the Navy was Fleet Admiral Steve Branch; Dept. of the Interior, Paul Jordon; Librarian of Congress, Sylvia Benfield; and Head of the F.B.I., cool and collected Richard Browning.

An advertisement caught my eye. The striking model in the miniskirt was Johnese Williams. She was seated in a new 1980 Corvette designed by Johnny Beaver, Buster Beck and Glen Gwyn, the wonder boys of the car industry. They also built the winning car at the Indianapolis 500, driven by Phillip Wilson. Trailways Bus Company had honored the best driver of the year. There was a tie between Sandra Orders and Billy South who both had perfect driving records.

This year's fashions seem to be dictated by the designer Virginia Hastings. Her look was seen everywhere. Specializing in fashions for the petite girl, Susan Merrill's Boutique was the "in" place in New York for girls under five feet. The best in men's fashions was found at the Conley Clique, owned jointly by Jakie and Eugene Conley. By the looks of the women's section, to be "in the swing" a girl had to have her hair styled at the Fifth Avenue Salon by one of these well known stylists: Katrina Herman, Wanda Holland, or Mona Staver. For very special occasions, one went to Bob's, a private salon owned by Bobby Hensley.

Sports were an important part of my high school life. While I was looking at the sports pages, I saw that our athletes didn't stop their athletic powers in high school. The artful passer for the Oakland Raiders was Steve "Scrapper" Carswell. The manager of this great ball club was Butch Bowman. Pace setters on the basketball courts of Los Angeles and Detroit were R. W. Dale and Ken Fann. Pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to victory was Herbert McDowell. An up-and-coming player for the Dodgers was Ronald Poteet. The Green Bay Packers had a great season thanks to Henry Wallace and their veteran coach, Sam Wiseman. Covering these sports events was Lynn Arrowood, a former basketball coach who had never lost a game.

The world of medicine had a major breakthrough with the discovery of how to completely erase freckles. In charge of this project were Andrea Hoyle and Frances Patton assisted by Peggy McFalls R. N. Kathy Crooks and Delores Costner were noted for their work at the Mayo Clinic.

The stock market was at a healthy level according to an article written by business tycoons Bud Lail and Lester Cooper. Vickie Michaels, Carolyn Causby, and Judy Ross, owners of the American Tobacco Company, predicted a good year for 1980. The President of the A. & P., Steve White, attributed his success to his beginning at Keller's I. G. A.

PROPHECY

The adventure feature of the week was about 4 Australian ranchers: Marlowe Farris, Rick Wise, Lonnie Moses, and Wayne Crawford. Their story was written by world traveler and adventuress, Sherry Francum.

Education had progressed by the help of Dr. Mary Ellen Baxter, renowned expert on child guidance. Professor Robert Bryant of Yale had completed another speaking tour in Europe. The National Association of Educators had picked the following high school teachers for their contributions in their fields: Terecia Mulwee, Algebra; and Warren Scott, Geography and Economics.

The entertainment scene was brightened by the night club, "Soul Shack," operated by Tommy Carpenter. Singing to a packed audience, the Sundowners were Marva Poole, John Cantrell, and Martha Fullwood. Their songs were high on the charts of WMNY where discs were spun by Michael Bennett, Ethel Davis, and Dale Keller, the talkative trio. The favorite T.V. show seemed to be "Gene and Rusty" starring Gene Hallyburton. Next in ratings was the morning exercise show, "Keeping Trim," with push-ups led by Angie Vance.

My flight was announced so I hastened to the plane. Ahead of me I recognized two members of the jet set, Sarah Morgan, and David Gwyn, a playboy on the Riviera. They were whisked into the V.I.P. lounge. At the plane's door I was in for another shock when the stewardesses turned out to be Barbara Huffman, Lee Benfield, Barbara McMahan, and Kay Patton. I was shown my seat and we started to rehash old times when the pilot's voice boomed over the loud speaker. It was the voice of Steve Henson. I felt a tap on my shoulder. Turning around I saw Kathy Pollard, Lorraine Baker, Margie Pritchard, and Brenda Stillwell all with their husbands. It seems that they were returning from second honeymoon trips to Europe.

I settled back in the seat with a feeling of satisfaction. My school class had fulfilled all my anticipation.

DELMA

Miss Thomasson,

You are the greatest band director I have ever had the privilege to be under. You have a great band. I hope it stays great. You have meant so much to me that I shall never forget you ever. You've taught me so much in the past 8 yrs. I know I have put a lot of gray hairs in your head. It's going to be hard to say good-bye to you because you've been like a mother to me. I know you are glad to see the seniors leave. HA!! HA!! Which I can stay in band forever.

If I ever become a band director, I want to be just like you in every way. I will always look up to you, because you are really something to look up to. You've taught me more than just music. You've taught me hard work is the only way to get what you are really after in life. You've taught me dedication, through your dedication to band. Both you and Miss Brooks have taught me never to quit once you've started. It works, because of what you gain.

I might be a few miles away from here when I am in college, but I will think of you, Miss Brooks, Wynn + the Band and I'll be back forever.

May God Bless the Greatest Band Director Love

Diane Brittain Sr. Sept '69

Mrs. Thomasson,

I have really enjoyed being in band this year. I have also appreciate all the help you have given me with the French Horn.

You are a wonderfull person and I am privileged to know you and work with you and to be able to talk to you.

You are too great of a Band Director to be stuck with a band like ours where they are 90% of the members don't care.

I am going to do all my best to make next year the best Glen Alpine Band ever.

May God bless and keep you forever and ever.

Love ya,

Dal Marshall
